HOUSING

gvsu.edu/housing

Now that you have been admitted to Grand Valley, we recommend that you apply for housing as soon as possible.

GVSU offers many styles of housing to meet individual needs, lifestyles, and fit a variety of budgets. Traditional style is the default preference for all incoming freshmen. Learn more about housing styles at gvsu.edu/housing/options.

When living on campus, all living expenses are included in the rate; you manage one consolidated bill. Students enjoy living on campus because of the convenience to dining, classrooms, study areas, and recreation spaces.

Important Information:

- First-year students are required to live on campus.
- Complete an online application at gvsu.edu/housing.
- Many first-year students choose their specific housing assignments through the room self-selection process which opens in early summer. The sooner a student completes the housing application, the sooner they'll gain access to the self-selection process. Details about the room selection process will be sent to students' GVSU email.
- First-year students are only eligible for a housing assignment upon completing a housing application and reserving an Orientation session.
- After applying for housing, students will receive instructions for My College Roomie, GVSU's roommate matching and connection platform. Completing the preference questionnaire on My College Roomie is essential, as it informs room and roommate assignments.
- Roommate requests must be mutual, be received by May 1, and are not guaranteed.
- For more information on requesting exemption from the housing requirement, visit gvsu.edu/housing.

✓ File your FAFSA as soon as possible for priority scholarship consideration

FINANCIAL AID

gvsu.edu/finaid

FAFSA

Financial aid is available from various sources, including scholarships, grants, loans, and work study. To be considered for these types of aid, students must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). For maximum aid consideration, submit the FAFSA by March 1.

FAFSA is available online at studentaid.gov/fafsa. Be sure to include GVSU school code 002268 to ensure we receive your information.

Scholarships

Grand Valley offers merit-based scholarships for students based on GPA. Students admitted by March 1 are automatically considered for GVSU merit scholarships. Initial eligibility is assessed upon admission, with further scholarship and grant decisions communicated through the Office of Financial Aid. Final scholarship determinations are made by July 31.

GVSU provides access to the myScholarships database to match students with both GVSU department-specific and donor-funded scholarships, as well as access to more than 10,000 external scholarship opportunities.

The majority of GVSU scholarship deadlines fall between January and March 1, while external scholarship deadlines vary year-round. Students may search and apply for these scholarships each year through gvsu.edu/myscholarships.
